

Protect Your Business and Your Bottom Line with a Commercial Policy Package

Quote & Buy

Why do you need a Commercial Policy Package?

A Commercial Policy Package is a bundle of multiple business coverages from the same provider, customized to your business needs. By bundling all of your business' necessary coverages from one provider, you get a wider range of coverages and limits, and you build flexibility and resiliency into your insurance coverages. And, by working directly with a provider, your coverages can be tailored directly to your needs.

Policy features may vary by carrier.

Is your business adequately covered?

75% of businesses are underinsured by
40% or more

What Does a Commercial Policy Package Cover?

A typical Commercial Policy Package allows businesses a high degree of flexibility and customization when selecting the coverages that are right for their business. Typical coverages that might be included in a CPP are:

General Liability

A Commercial General Liability Policy is a broad insurance option that provides coverage to your company for claims involving property damage and bodily injury that might result from your business operations.

Property Coverage

Commercial Property Insurance provides additional key coverages for business owners, including repair and replacement costs that arise from damage to your building, equipment, tools, inventory, personal property, and more.

Commercial Auto

Commercial Auto Insurance Policies may also be added to a package to provide coverage for damages or repair costs that arise due to an accident that involves one of your business' vehicles.

Crime Protection

A Crime Protection Policy provides your business with essential protections against everything from vandalism to embezzlement, forgery, check or money tampering, credit card fraud, and more.